CREW MEMBER
COMMUNICATION AND INPUT

OPEN DOOR/PROBLEM-SOLVING PROCEDURE

EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF actively promotes ongoing and open communication among all crew members, supervisors and managers. We believe good communication is essential to the organization's well-being and that problems, questions, concerns or complaints left unresolved can negatively impact our work and our environment. Any crew member who has a question, concern, or complaint of any kind is urged to bring it immediately to the attention of the crew member's supervisor or manager. While the company may not be able to correct every problem, it is our desire to listen to our crew members and respond appropriately considering the circumstances.

Most of the time, a crew member's immediate supervisor is the person best qualified to solve an issue brought to their attention. If the crew member feels the issue is not resolved or would be uncomfortable discussing it with their immediate supervisor, it should be discussed with the next-level manager or the EFFY Human Resources team. For internal harassment, discrimination, or retaliation complaints, crew members should use the complaint procedure set forth in the policy against sexual harassment and other workplace harassment instead of this open door/problem-solving procedure.

At any stage in the problem-solving procedure, if the crew member feels uncomfortable with continuing to pursue the issue with onboard management, they should feel free to contact the EFFY Shipboard Human Resources department at ShipboardHR@effyjewelry.com.

CONFIDENTIALITY AND NON-RETALIATION

All discussions and investigations will be handled with the utmost confidentiality. EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF prohibits retaliation against any crew member who raises a concern or participates in an investigation in good faith. We are committed to resolving issues fairly and maintaining a respectful work environment.

CREW RELATIONS & INPUT

At EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF every supervisor and manager is expected to be committed to our philosophy of fair and impartial treatment of crew members. You are always free to speak to your supervisor or any member of the management team. We encourage you to raise questions you may have about your employment and environment. Departmental meetings, written surveys, and one-on-one conversations are all methods that EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF may use to facilitate discussion in the workplace. Every crew member is an important participant in the operation of our company.

HUMAN RESOURCES

If you have any questions or concerns about EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF policies, procedures, benefits, or any aspect of your environment, please do not hesitate to contact human resources by contacting ShipboardHR@effyjewelry.com. We can only be as effective as you let us be – if we do not know about something, we cannot explain or resolve it, as appropriate.

CREW FEEDBACK SURVEYS

Periodically, we may conduct a written survey of crew members' opinions on policies, procedures, operational methods, leadership, etc. The dates of such surveys will be announced in advance to give all crew members a chance to participate. Participation in these surveys is voluntary but greatly appreciated, as it helps us focus on what matters most to our crew. Once the results of such surveys have been tabulated, follow-up meetings are typically conducted to discuss what we have learned.

CREW MEMBER SUPPORT CALLS

You can schedule support calls with the S.T.E.P. team through the HR portal. These calls are available for various topics including mental wellness, career support, loneliness while onboard, and other health and wellness issues. To schedule a call, simply log in to the HR hub and select an open time slot on the calendar. This will ensure you receive the support you need at a convenient time. We encourage you to take advantage of this resource and reach out whenever you feel the need. Your well-being is important to us, and we are here to support you in any way we can.

EMPLOYMENT

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY

EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF is an equal opportunity employer. We are dedicated to ensuring that all our decisions regarding all aspects of the employment relationship – including recruiting, hiring, promotions, assignment, training, access to social and recreational programs, discharge, compensation, benefits, and the terms, conditions, and privileges of employment – are in accordance with our principles of equal opportunity. It is the company policy that, in exercising our management responsibilities, we will not discriminate against crew members or applicants based on race, color, national origin, ethnicity, religion, age, sex, gender, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, genetic information, or based on any other status protected by acceptable law.

Our goal is to hire and promote individuals qualified for positions due to job-related considerations such as education, knowledge, skills, training, and experience. EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF is committed to taking affirmative action to ensure equal employment opportunity.

The company is committed to the practice of equal opportunity and will not tolerate intimidation or retaliation against crew members or applicants because they have engaged in or may engage in filing a complaint of discrimination or retaliation, assisting or participating in an investigation, opposing any act or practice made unlawful, or any other legally protected act.

If you have any questions or feel that you have been discriminated against because of your status, have been denied reasonable accommodation, have experienced intimidation or retaliation, or have witnessed or been subject to conduct that is inconsistent with this policy, you should immediately contact EFFY Human Resources department at ShipboardHR@effyjewelry.com.

Please see the company's policy against sexual harassment and other workplace harassment below and for information about the company's policy regarding investigation and resolution of complaints.

POLICY AGAINST HARASSMENT

EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF believes in the dignity of every crew member and expects every crew member to show respect for all colleagues, guests, and vendors. Furthermore, the company is committed to providing crew members with a work environment free of unlawful discrimination, including harassment, on the basis of race, color, sex, gender, age, religion, natural origin, ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, physical or mental, genetic information, military service, marital status, pregnancy, childbirth, related medical conditions, or any other characteristic protected by law. Therefore, the company will not tolerate any discriminatory harassment or other behavior inconsistent with this policy, including but not limited to sexual harassment. This policy applies to harassment that involves the employment relationship, whether it occurs on our premises or in some other location where company activity occurs, such as in port.

The policy covers all crew members, as well as applicants for employment, and independent contractors, and prohibits any form of unlawful harassment or discrimination against company crew members, whether by executives, managers, coworkers, associates, or non-associates, such as clients, customers, or vendors. Likewise, harassment and discrimination of guests, vendors, or third parties by crew members are prohibited.

PROHIBITED CONDUCT

Crew members are prohibited from advertising, promoting, or selling any products that compare and compete with EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF. This policy ensures the integrity and market position of our brand.

All individuals employed by EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF must maintain professionalism in their discussions about the company. This includes refraining from making disparaging or negative comments about EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF, its policies, products, and retail or promotional divisions, whether in public or private settings.

Employees are prohibited from actions that negatively impact the outcome of a sale. This includes offering unauthorized discounts, concessions, or additional services that could undermine the integrity of the sales process.

Employees must strictly follow all retail directives. Any actions that negatively affect a sale or the sales experience will be subject to investigation by a third-party executive. Consequences of such actions may include, but are not limited to, the revocation, removal, or reduction of commissions, incentives, and bonuses.

Harassment in violation of the Crew Conduct Policy consists of unwelcome conduct, whether verbal, physical, or visual, that may reasonably be perceived as ridiculing, denigrating, showing hostility toward, or affecting an individual because of their race, color, sex, gender, age, religion, natural origin, ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, physical or mental disability, genetic information, military service, marital status, related medical conditions, or any characteristic protected by law. Even where conduct does not raise to the level of harassment or discrimination that is prohibited by law, the company prohibits any such conduct in the workplace or carrying out one's duties for the company. Crew members must always behave professionally while onboard.

A complete list of such conduct is not possible. However, some common examples of such prohibited harassment are:

- Any verbal or physical conduct that may reasonably be perceived as denigrating or showing hostility towards an individual because of the individual's protected status.
- Using epithets, slurs, or negative stereotyping based on a protected characteristic.
- Mocking, ridiculing, or mimicking another culture, accent, appearance, or customs.
- Threatening, intimidating, or engaging in hostile or offensive acts that focus on an individual's race, color, gender, age, religion, national origin, sexual orientation, disability, or other protected characteristic.
- Circulating or posting material in the workplace or cabin that could reasonably be considered offensive based on protected status, by email or otherwise.
- Behavior designated to taunt, humiliate, ridicule, isolate, or embarrass an individual based on a protected status.
- Conduct based on a protected characteristic that interferes with a crew member's ability to do their job.

FRATERNIZATION WITH GUESTS

To maintain a professional atmosphere and uphold the integrity of our brand, crew members are strictly prohibited from fraternizing with guests during or after their contract period. Any engagement that goes beyond professional interactions, including personal trips or outings with guests, is not permitted and may result in disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal. Crew members are expected to maintain boundaries that reflect the professionalism of their role.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT

Sexual harassment is one kind of discriminatory harassment that deserves special mention. Harassing conduct based on gender is often sexual in nature, but sometimes not. Sexual harassment is not limited to demands for sexual favors. This policy forbids harassment, regardless of whether the offensive conduct is sexual in nature. Any unwelcome conduct on gender is also forbidden by this policy, regardless of whether the individual engaged in the harassment and the individual being harassed are of the same or are different genders. No crew member, prospective crew member, customer, or prospective customer should be subject to unsolicited and unwelcome sexual overtures, nor should any crew member or prospective crew member be led to believe that an employment opportunity or benefit will in any way depend upon “cooperation” of a sexual nature. Sexual harassment by any crew member towards any customer, vendor, or other person is also strictly prohibited. The purpose of this policy is not to regulate our crew members’ personal morality. It is to ensure that harassment does not occur.

Sexual harassment includes unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other statements or actions of a sexual or gender-based nature when:

- The harasser states or implies that giving in to or rejecting such conduct will affect an individual’s employment.
- Giving in to or rejecting such conduct is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting the crew member.
- Such conduct unreasonably interferes with an individual’s work performance or creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working environment.

No supervisor or manager has the authority to grant or deny promotions, or to force any change in job status based on the provision or denial of sexual favors.

This policy forbids harassment based on gender, regardless of whether it raises to the level of a legal violation. Examples of gender-based harassment by this policy include but are not limited to:

- Threatening, or actively making, job decisions such as discharge, demotion, or reassignment if sexual favors are not granted.
- Demanding sexual favors in exchange for favorable or preferential treatment.
- Making offensive, insulting, derogatory, or degrading remarks relating to sex or gender.
- Making unwelcome comments about appearance.
- Kidding, teasing, or joking about sexual matters, or using sexually explicit or offensive language, either in person, on paper, or through email.
- Displaying in the workplace or circulating sexually suggestive objects, pictures, or cartoons, including material from the internet.

- Making offensive contact, such as hugging, grabbing, patting, pinching, or brushing up against another's body.
- Using obscene or sexually oriented language or gestures.
- Hostile conduct based on gender or gender identification.
- Making repeated offensive sexual flirtations, advances, and propositions.

REPORTING DISCRIMINATION/HARASSMENT

If you witness or experience conduct that you believe to be inconsistent with this policy, you must immediately notify your manager or Human Resources (ShipboardHR@effyjewelry.com). Only these managers are authorized to receive and act upon complaints of harassment or discrimination. However, any manager who becomes aware of conduct that may violate this policy must immediately report it to Human Resources. All incidents of discrimination, harassment or other inappropriate workplace behavior must be reported. See the EFFY Grievance Policy for detailed information on filing a formal grievance.

INVESTIGATION OF REPORTS

When a potential violation of this policy is reported, we will conduct a prompt and thorough investigation. The company will attempt to maintain confidentiality throughout the investigation to the extent possible under the circumstances and given the needs of the investigation. However, to conduct an appropriate investigation, some disclosure is likely required and therefore, confidentiality cannot be granted.

The company may put reasonable interim measures in place, such as administrative sign off, or a transfer, while the investigation proceeds. The company may take further appropriate action once the complaint has been thoroughly investigated. If an investigation confirms that a violation of the policy or other inappropriate conduct has occurred, the company will take corrective action, including the enforcement of disciplinary measures such as an unpaid suspension or immediate termination of contract, as is appropriate under the circumstances, regardless of job positions or parties involved. The company may discipline a crew member for any inappropriate conduct discovered in investigating reports made under this policy, regardless of whether the conduct amounts to a violation of law or even a violation of this policy. If the person engaged in harassment or discrimination is not employed by the company, we will take whatever corrective action is reasonable and appropriate under the circumstances.

RETALIATION PROHIBITED

The company prohibits any form of retaliation against a crew member for reporting harassment or discrimination, registering a complaint pursuant to this policy, helping another crew member report a complaint, or otherwise participating in an investigation. We consider retaliation to be a serious violation of this policy and strongly urge you to report any incidents of retaliation immediately using the reporting procedure above. We will investigate and resolve reports of retaliation in the same manner as reports of harassment. Violation of the policy against retaliation may result in the enforcement of disciplinary measures such as an unpaid suspension or the immediate termination of contract.

WORKPLACE EXPECTATIONS

We know you are working hard, and we want you to have a good work/life balance. To ensure you can plan how you want to enjoy your time off, work schedules are posted in each area. Further, there are designated crew areas that are designed to provide you with a welcoming environment for you to eat, have fun, and relax. The food for all crew is prepared by chefs, made fresh daily, with healthy and tasty options. And during your breaks, you can choose to rest in the comfort of your cabin or take advantage of the amenities available to you. For example, the crew gym and lounge are available to all crew members. In the gym you'll find basic equipment such as weights and treadmills, as well as ample space for you to go through your workout routine. The crew lounge offers a fun place to relax with your coworkers and get to know other crew members from around the ship and around the world. Should you need to refresh your stock of basic necessities before stopping at the next port, there is a convenient onboard shop where you can find basics like toothpaste and soap. And, of course, you could also go explore the many exciting ports we visit. Up for some fun with your teammates? Please check the many recreational activities happening onboard your ship; they're designed with you in mind! Then, once your contract is over and you are ready to go back home for vacation, we will take care of the travel arrangements to get you there.

With minimal living expenses (accommodations and nutritious meals provided at no cost to you), plus a competitive salary distributed twice a month, you can maximize your ability to save, send money home, and plan for your future.

ATTENDANCE AND PUNCTUALITY

Our workplace depends greatly upon teamwork. When you are not on the job, everyone else must make adjustments to assume your workload. It is your responsibility - to your fellow crew members and the company - to be on the job when you are scheduled to work and be on time. If a situation arises that makes it impossible for you to report to work as scheduled, you must report to the medical facility and advise your supervisor as soon as you become aware that you will be late or absent, stating the reason for your absence and when you expect you will be able to report to work.

All crew members must have:

- 10 hours rest in any 24-hour period; cannot work more than 14 hours in a period of 24 hours.
- 10 hours total rest must be divided into no more than 2 periods (Ex: 6+4, 7+3). It can be even one period of 10 hours and there must be one period of rest at least for 6 hours.
- 77 hours rest in any 7 days conversely cannot work more than 72 in any 7-day period.
- Reference periods cover any 24-hour or 7-day periods, not just a calendar day or week.
- Rest periods less than one hour (Ex: 55 minutes) do not count towards rest hours in purposes of ILO.
- 24-hour period to begin immediately after a crew member had at least 6 hours of rest/last longest rest.

BREAKS AND TIMING

Crew members should not take breaks during events and should strategically time their breaks based on crew mess hours and high traffic store moments. This ensures that breaks are taken in a way that does not disrupt the flow of operations and allows for better coverage during peak times.

CONTRACT AND VACATION LENGTHS

At EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF we follow the Maritime Labour Convention (MLC) guidance to ensure fair and consistent employment practices for our crew members. Understanding the lengths of your contract and vacation periods is essential for planning and maintaining a balanced work/life dynamic.

Contract Lengths:

- Duration: Crew member contracts typically last for 6 months but may be extended due to operational needs.
- As per the Maritime Labour Convention (MLC), the maximum continuous period a seafarer can remain onboard without taking leave is typically 11 months. This standard is set to ensure the well-being and safety of the crew members.

Vacation Lengths:

- Duration: For a six-month contract, the minimum vacation would amount to at least 15 days of leave. It is common practice for seafarers to have a vacation period of about two months between contracts, ensuring they have adequate rest and recovery time before returning to work onboard.
- Crew members at EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF are contractual employees, employed at the will of the company. Leaders have the discretion to approve or deny requests for extended vacations based on operational needs and the crew member's performance.
- Extended Vacation Requests: If a crew member wishes to request an extended vacation, the company will accept their resignation and inform them that they may reapply when they are ready to return. However, rehire is not guaranteed and will depend on availability and operational needs at the time of reapplication. Additionally, they may need to return to a lower-ranked position than their previous contract.

DRESS CODE AND APPEARANCE STANDARDS

While you are onboard, you are representing EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF. In order to promote a positive work environment and proper company image, and due to our crew members frequent contact with guests, all crew members must maintain a neat and clean appearance while onboard. In an effort to assist you in meeting our grooming and appearance standards, the company has developed these guidelines. Leadership shall determine when a crew member fails to meet these standards. Crew members must also comply with the cruise lines dress code and appearance policy at all times.

Crew members must always practice good personal hygiene. Hair and fingernails must be neat, clean, and well-trimmed. Hairstyles should be appropriate for health, safety, and grooming standards. Mustaches and beards may be worn only if they are neatly trimmed.

Your manager may provide you with additional guidelines. Crew members who report to work dressed or groomed inappropriately will be asked to go to their cabin to shower and change.

Multiple infractions can lead to disciplinary action up to and including termination of contract.

In cases where a medical condition or religious practice prevents compliance with this policy, you should notify your fleet leadership and or the EFFY Human Resources team immediately so that accommodation can be considered. Nothing in this policy should be interpreted or applied in a manner inconsistent with acceptable law, including making an effort to provide accommodation where appropriate.

All Crew Members Must Have:

- Clean hands, nails, clothing and shoes
- Name tags must be worn in accordance with ship standards
- Neatly groomed and clean hair
- Uniforms must be properly sized, wrinkle-free, clean, not faded or torn, and in good condition
- Well-maintained shoes that are safe and appropriate for position
- Fragrance must be subtle and used in moderation

WORKPLACE SAFETY AND SECURITY

At EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF safety and security are paramount. While onboard, crew members are always expected to put safety and security first for the sake of yourself, your coworkers, and our guests. Practicing safety and security is not just encouraged; it is a requirement.

Guidelines for Safety and Security:

- Be alert. Be careful. Be aware of your surroundings. Always think safely.
- Pick up fallen objects and wipe up spills immediately.
- Follow all established procedures in case of fire or emergency situations. Above all, remain calm. Do not panic.
- Report unsafe conditions to your supervisor.
- If a guest or co-worker is injured or ill, advise your supervisor and if required and safe to do so, escort them to the ship's medical facility.
- Learn and practice the correct way to lift heavy objects.
- Keep all hallways and stairs free from debris.
- Wear all required safety equipment. Only operate equipment on which you are properly trained.
- Know your emergency duties. Show up on time and alert to all emergency drills.
- Know where all firefighting equipment is located. Learn the location of all fire extinguishers in your work area and know how to use them.
- For quick reference, know all safety code words and telephone numbers for ship's emergency procedures.
- Report immediately to your supervisor any suspicious characters or unusual suspicious activity that gives rise to the threat of safety, security or property of cruise line guests, crew members, or the ship itself.

Safety Duties, Training, and Tests:

- Mandatory Training: Crew members must report to all cruise line safety duties, training, and tests provided onboard from day one.
- Port Manning: Crew members are required to adhere to the port manning schedule. It is essential for every crew member to know if they are designated for port manning duty on specific days. On these days, designated crew members are not permitted to disembark the ship. Adherence to the port manning schedule ensures the safety and operational readiness of the vessel. Please make sure you are aware of your port manning status and plan accordingly.

By adhering to these guidelines and participating in regular training, we ensure a safe and secure environment for all crew members and guests. Your commitment to these practices is vital in maintaining a secure and efficient workplace.

FALSIFICATION AND NON-DISCLOSURE OF MEDICAL HISTORY

Any falsification or non-disclosure of relevant medical documents or pre-existing medical conditions is grounds for immediate dismissal. It is essential that all employees provide accurate and truthful medical information to ensure the safety and well-being of both the individual and the entire crew.

FOCUS ON WELLNESS

As you know, your health is also a top priority for us and we are happy to provide our crew members with a variety of health and wellness resources while working with EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF. The ship's medical facilities are well-appointed with specialized clinical equipment designed to help medical staff provide high quality primary and immediate care. Certified doctors and nurses are carefully selected to provide you with professional attention. They are available throughout the day to answer any questions and review your health care needs to provide nutritional counseling and diagnostics. In addition, there are many wellness initiatives hosted by EFFY HR S.T.E.P. Program, Shipboard HR teams and medical teams to educate you on preventative care and promote a healthy lifestyle. The initiatives cover many different topics, from tips to help you stop smoking, to diabetes and blood pressure management, and workshops on back safety. These programs are voluntary, and everyone is encouraged to participate. Wellness initiatives change and are added often, so please stay tuned and participate!

RELATIONSHIPS IN THE WORKPLACE

EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF recognizes that relationships may form among crew members in the unique environment onboard a cruise ship. While we support positive workplace relationships, it is important to maintain a professional and respectful work environment. It is against company policy for crew members to engage in romantic or intimate relationships with subordinates who report directly or indirectly to them. Engaging in a romantic or intimate relationship with a subordinate can create a conflict of interest and may impair judgment or lead to favoritism, which can negatively impact the work environment and team dynamics. If a crew member enters a romantic or intimate relationship with a subordinate, they must disclose the relationship to EFFY's HR department to ensure appropriate measures are taken to address potential conflicts of interest.

Violation of this policy may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment, depending on the circumstances and the impact on the work environment.

COUPLE ALIGNMENTS

The Couples Policy establishes guidelines for couples working together on EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF cruise ships. Couples must disclose their relationship to their Fleet Manager/Director and earn the privilege of working together by meeting individual goals and performing at a high standard. Fair treatment is paramount, with no favoritism shown. Couples may have separate berthing accommodations and embark/debark at different times when replacements are needed. Professional behavior is always expected, and sales should be attributed to the individual who made the sale. Couples should not expect special treatment or leniency in evaluations. Violations of the policy may result in disciplinary action, including termination. Reference the Couples Policy for more detailed information on couple alignments.

CABIN INSPECTIONS

Most crew members will be required to share a cabin, and in some cases, this may be with someone from another department. It is crucial to maintain a respectful and considerate environment within shared living spaces. Crew cabins are subject to inspection by shipboard officers at any time. To ensure safety and hygiene standards are maintained, cabins must be kept clean, tidy, and free from any potential fire hazards. Any violation of these standards may result in disciplinary action. Your cooperation in keeping your cabin in order is essential for the well-being of all onboard. If you notice that your roommate is not following the established rules or is behaving in a way that disrupts the shared living environment, report the issue to your supervisor.

DENIED BOARDING

If a crew member is denied boarding for reasons such as late arrival, lack of proper documents, intoxication, missing visas, or medical unfitness, the company will arrange and cover the cost of a return flight home then HR will then reach out to discuss future contract possibilities. For more information, reference the Crew Member Denial of Boarding policy.

OVERVIEW OF BENEFITS

COMPENSATION

You will receive a Guaranteed Monthly Wage for each calendar month worked. This wage covers all compensation for hours worked, including overtime, weekends, public holidays, and paid leave (calculated as 4 days per month).

Your Guaranteed Monthly Wage includes payment for up to 94 overtime hours per month and travel days. It remains the same regardless of the vessel's itinerary, time zone changes, or crossing international date lines.

PAYROLL INFORMATION

Wages are earned from the day you embark on the vessel until the day before you sign off from it or your employment ends (your last full working day). You will be paid a guaranteed monthly wage twice a month: once on the 15th and again at the end of each month.

Commissions and expense reimbursements will be calculated at the end of each month. You will then have 30 days to submit an invoice for these amounts. After a 30-day review period, the company will pay the commissions and expense reimbursements.

COMPASSIONATE LEAVE

EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF's Compassionate Leave Policy aims to support crew members facing personal hardships by providing a structured approach for requesting temporary breaks in service or early termination of assignments on compassionate grounds. The policy defines compassionate grounds as situations involving death, life-threatening injury, major surgery, or terminal illness of an employee's immediate family. Immediate family includes father, mother, brother, sister, husband, wife, daughter, son, and next of kin on record. Crew members can request compassionate leave regardless of their length of service and must submit requests to ShipboardHR@effyjewelry.com. Approval for early termination of an assignment period due to compassionate reasons is contingent on the availability of sufficient documentation, such as medical records. In cases where a crew member is unable to provide sufficient documentation, they may be responsible for repatriation costs.

MATERNITY LEAVE

EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF Seafarers Maternity Policy is designed to ensure the health, safety, and well-being of pregnant seafarers working onboard cruise ships. Pregnant seafarers are required to notify their Fleet Manager/Director and the Shipboard HR Department as soon as they become aware of their pregnancy. They will receive appropriate health and safety information and measures to protect themselves and their unborn child. Pregnant individuals must disembark from the ship as soon as feasibly possible and in no case later than the 16th week of pregnancy for their safety. If the crew member advises the company within two (2) years following the birth of her child that she wishes to return to sea, she shall be afforded priority in filling a suitable vacancy in the same or equivalent position should such vacancy be available.

FLIGHT DEVIATION POLICY

The One-Time Travel Deviation Request Policy at EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF allows employees to request a one-time travel deviation for embarkation or repatriation to or from a destination other than their approved home airport. To qualify for this benefit, employees must be in good standing from their third contract onward and must bear all required travel visas and financial funds for destination leave. Requests must be submitted to onboard leadership 4 weeks in advance and must include the reason for the deviation and proposed destination. Approval is required from fleet leadership and EFFY's HR team. EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF will cover costs associated with embarkation or repatriation to/from the approved home airport. Any additional costs are the responsibility of the employee and must be approved before booking. Exceptions apply if the home airport is in a state of distress.

The Home Airport Change Policy allows crew members to request a change to their designated home airport. Eligibility is open to all crew members. The procedure involves submitting a written request to ShipboardHR@effyjewelry.com with proof of residence and a reason for the change. Approval or denial will be communicated within 10 business days. Approved changes will be updated in the records. Crew members can request a change once per calendar year, with exceptions granted in exceptional circumstances.

CREW MEMBER
CONDUCT AND DISCIPLINE

PERFORMANCE EXPECTATIONS

Crew members must meet acceptable performance standards and comply with company and cruise line policies. These policies have been established for legitimate business reasons, such as to protect you, other crew members, and the company from injury or other threats to our well-being, and to promote efficient working practices.

DISCIPLINARY PROCESS

When crew members fail to meet these standards, violate rules or policies, or otherwise fail to satisfy the company's expectations, they may be subject to disciplinary action, including formal letters of accountability, unpaid suspension, and immediate termination of employment. The specific disciplinary action taken will be based on an assessment of the offense, the circumstances, and your previous performance and discipline record. The company reserves the right to make all disciplinary decisions in the best interest of EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF, the cruise line, the ship, its crew members, and its guests, consistent with applicable law. Disciplinary action may be taken for repeated violations of the same rule or policy, for violations of different rules or policies, for a single incident of serious misconduct, or for continuous violations of a general nature, such as attitude or general performance. Nothing herein shall be construed to guarantee continued employment or to alter the contractual employment relationship.

PROGRESSIVE DISCIPLINE

Where appropriate in the company's judgment, the company provides progressive disciplinary for violations of company policy and other failures to meet behavioral standards or otherwise satisfy company expectations. However, the imposition of one form of discipline in one instance does not mean that a different form of discipline is not warranted in another instance. Repeated violations at different times, serious violations of more than one rule in a single act, violations of different rules at different times, serious violations of company policies, and aggravating circumstances may be cause for accelerated and/or compound disciplinary action. In addition, the company has reserved the right to terminate a crew member upon the first offense.

- Informal Counseling: Informal counseling, with or without written documentation involves the manager or other supervisor counseling the crew member about a particular problem.
- Acknowledgement of Conversation: AOC's are issued as a first warning for professionalism and policy violations. The document is reviewed with the crew member and signed by him/her/them as acknowledgment that the crew member has read and understands the disciplinary action. Refusal to sign an AOC does not invalidate it.
- Letter of Accountability: If you receive an LOA, you should recognize the serious nature of your actions and make every effort to correct them. An LOA serves as a final warning for professionalism, policy violations and safety infractions.
- Action Plan: Action plans are issued as a form of coaching to set clear expectations with measurable outcomes to aid in the crew members' success. Failure to meet the objectives set forth in an action plan could lead to further disciplinary action up to and including termination.

TERMINATION POLICIES

Termination of employment may be voluntary or involuntary. Voluntary termination is initiated by the crew member and includes resignation, retirement, and job abandonment. If you decide to resign while on contract or while at home on vacation, please contact ShipboardHR@effyjewelry.com. We will request that you provide a written letter of resignation. Crew members are asked to provide as much advance notice as possible of their decision to resign while onboard, and as a matter of courtesy, the company asks for (but does not require) at least two weeks' notice. Circumstances may exist, however, in which the company may exercise its right to accept your resignation immediately and accelerate your sign off and final day of employment. You will receive compensation until and including your last day of actual work, whether the last day is the date designated by you or a date selected by the company.

Suspected behavior inconsistent with or in violation of Company or Cruise Lines' rules, policies, or other expectations may result in your contract being terminated and your removal from the ship while the circumstances surrounding the incident are being investigated. Should the violation prove serious enough, the Company may choose to not offer the crew member a future contract. The Company may also terminate a crew member's contract and future employment without taking any steps of progressive discipline. Nothing herein shall be construed to guarantee that disciplinary action will occur in a certain order or that certain steps must be followed prior to termination.

As per our employment contract and the Termination/Resignation Travel Expense Policy, if an employee requests to end their contract early on their own will, resigns, or is terminated, they are responsible for the costs associated with their initial travel to the embarkation location and their repatriation to their home airport. The total cost will be garnished from the employee's final paycheck. If the employee's final paycheck does not cover the total embarkation and repatriation costs, the company will not seek additional reimbursement but will garnish the final paycheck to cover whatever costs are available.

EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF does not have a non-compete clause. Terminated crew members are eligible to apply for positions with competitor companies. Before starting a position with another company, terminated crew members must be repatriated home by EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF. This ensures proper closure of employment with EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF. Upon request, EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF will provide a verification of employment for terminated crew members. This document will confirm the dates of employment and the position held, to assist with future job applications.

MASTERS HEARING

In cases of gross misconduct, terminations may occur following a Masters Hearing onboard. If terminated under a Masters Hearing, the crew member will not be eligible to work for that cruise line.

GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES

The EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF Grievance Reporting Policy aligns with the Maritime Labour Convention 2006, providing a structured process for seafarers to report complaints regarding breaches of their rights. Seafarers have the right to file complaints without fear of retaliation. The Director Shipboard HR & Compliance is available to offer impartial advice and assistance with complaint processing. Seafarers can bring their complaints directly to ShipboardHR@effyjewelry.com and have the right to be accompanied and represented by another seafarer. Efforts should be made to resolve complaints at the lowest level possible. Non-wage grievances must be reported to ShipboardHR@effyjewelry.com within 30-days, with a 5-day window for seeking a solution through conciliation. For wage disputes, grievances must be submitted within 30-days of receiving the paycheck. If a complaint cannot be resolved internally, seafarers have the right to escalate the matter to the Vice President Shipboard HR, for further conciliation. External authorities, such as flag state or port state authorities, can be accessed if the grievance remains unresolved. This policy aims to ensure fair treatment and adherence to regulations for seafarers lodging complaints during their employment onboard EFFY Jewelry | HFGM | HFDF vessels.
